

Image and Façade Study

The initial step in the downtown study was to review and photo document the downtown area. A composite of the many images found in the downtown area were compiled and are presented below in Figure B-6

Figure B-7, shows some of the architectural styles and features found on the buildings in the downtown area of Cross Village. The identification of these features are important as the planning committee and community identify the types of features they would like to see replicated in future development in the downtown.
